VACUUM CLAMPING BY GEORGE KNUTSON

This month's presentation is by George Knutson, one of our new members with a lot of talent.

George will give us an overview of some of the uses he's found for a vacuum pump. There's the usual - veneering flat or curved surfaces, but you can also clamp straight or bent laminations (with the form inside the bag or outside the bag). And you can secure a work piece to your workbench or hold your work piece to a jig or fixture.

George plans to demonstrate some of these applications and talk about the types of pumps that are available. George uses many of these techniques in his shop in Renton building primarily Greene & Greene style furniture, live edge slab pieces, recycled/reclaimed lumber projects and some welding thrown in for variety.

JANUARY MEETING

President Bill Rawls hammered the meeting to order at 7:00 p.m. at the Hillcrest Lodge in Mt. Vernon.

Bill declared that the NCWA was "The Most Distinguished Woodworking Club in America" and hoped that others would realize that also.

Jerry Anderson, outgoing chair of the Education Committee, summarized the classes that were available to the members and indicated that some slots were still available. Sign up lists were available during the break. Members could also sign up on line.

Past President Andrew Pellar introduced the new chair of the Toy for Tots program, John Braun, and asked everyone to give him their support.

Bill Rawls introduced the new Chair of the Education program, Dale Brandland, and asked everyone to give him their support and ideas for programs.

Bill Rawls introduced the new Member at Large for the Board of Directors, Richard Gillingham.

Jim Hickey announced a new member benefit. There will be a drawing for a prize at each of six General meetings during the year. The prize will generally be a small woodworking tool. In order to get a ticket for the drawing all you have to do is present your name tag to Jim at the meeting and he will give you a raffle ticket. You must be present to win.

Jerry Couchman gave a brief overview of the programs for the year.

The Program for the evening was 'Tool, Jig, & Gadget Night'.

Members were invited to bring favorite tools or jigs to share.

John Bellinger brought a beautiful red oak and walnut blanket chest in the Green & Green Style. It was lined with cedar and beautifully finished.

Don Wilkins showed a mini router base for a Dremel tool which significantly aided his inlay work.

Dale Brandland shared a homemade flush-trim jig based on a Woodsmith design.

Jay Geisel showed us five tools he found that were very useful. The first was a portable work bench he had made for use on his boat. He built from scraps of oak flooring. It was very compact and obviously useful. Next was a bow saw made from plastic .

he got from Home Depot. Another was a homemade mine carving stand that he made from scraps of plywood. He also shared a set of small sanding strips that he got from Veritas as well as a mini cast iron hand clamp.

Jerry Couchman showed us a dovetail spline jig that he used making boxes. You can get a hands-on demonstration in Jerry's box class.

Jerry also showed us a 5/16" mortising tool that he purchased from FastCap in Bellingham.

Jim Bradbury showed us how he replicated complex moldings using a handmade clamp along with his shop router and table saw.

Tom Dolese displayed two of his favorite tools; a 6" adjustable Starrett square purchased from Hardware Sales and a Wixey Gauge. The gauge allowed Tom to set the angle of his table saw blade very precisely.

Bryrick Shillam showed a beautiful Bluetooth speaker enclosure that he had made out of sapele and walnut.

Jim Friberg displayed some handmade E-cigarette stands that he had made out of various woods. Jim indicated that he hopes to exploit this new market.

Mike Forst showed us a Woodsmith dado router jig that he used for making beds.

The meeting was adjourned at approximately 8:35.

LOSS OF A GOOD FRIEND!

On Thursday, January 23rd NCWA member Steve Durkee passed away. Steve joined the club in May 2010. Steve loved his favorite pastime – woodworking. Often he would share his special skills with the membership during bring-and-brag. Steve incorporated inlays into many of his woodworking projects. Steve enjoyed putting the inlay class together and teaching many NCWA members the intricacies of creating detailed inlays.

Steve's family is planning a Celebration of Life gathering on Feb. 22, at 2:00PM

BOARD OF DIRECTORS MEETING MINUTES

President Bill Rawls convened the meeting at 7:00 P.M.

Members Present: Jerry Anderson, Charley Drake, Ed Pysher, Bill Rawls, Don Wilkins, Al Ashley, Andrew Pellar, Philip Choquette, Jerry Couchman, Richard Gillingham, Dale Brandland, Gary Danilson, David Shull

Treasurer Report. Al Ashley reported that the club had $6,768.89 in checking and savings accounts. Al reviewed the 2015 budget with the board members. Changes compared to the 2014 budget included an increase in funds for the NCWA library and increased costs for renting the Hillcrest Lodge due to plans to rent the space for an entire day for the December Christmas party. Al moved that the board approve the 2015 budget. Ed Pysher seconded the motion. After addressing a question from Jerry Couchman about how to deal with unforeseen costs (there is room in the budget for that), the motion passed unanimously.

Membership report. The club had a total membership of 187 with 7 new members since the beginning of 2015. At the time of the meeting, 144 members had paid their dues to renew their memberships whereas 46 member were unpaid.

Education report. Dale Brandland is the new chair of the education committee. Dale reported plans to hold a meeting on 1/15/2015 at noon with the education committee and board members to develop a strategy for how to run the NCWA education program.

Wood species collection. Jerry Anderson informed the board about a gift from Bill Webb of a remarkable collection of identified wood samples. The collection contains more than 400 samples of wood from around the world, labeled with species and collection site. The board discussed several options for what to do with this collection of wood samples. These included using the samples in the wood identification class currently taught by Samantha Chang and donating the collection to a larger organization such as the University of Washington's School of Environmental and Forest Sciences. Jerry Anderson agreed to contact Samantha about the use of the samples in her class. David Shull agreed to contact the UW, and Richard Gillingham agreed to store the samples if we decide to keep them. The board agreed to not make a decision about what to do with the wood until after consultation with Samantha and the UW. Jerry mentioned that Bill Webb would like the file boxes currently storing the samples to be returned to him. The board agreed to express appreciation to Bill for this significant donation.

Coffee. Al Ashley reported that there was not enough coffee at the last General meeting. He apologized for not bringing all the coffee pots. He also reported that Tom Thornton requested help with the coffee due to an injury that makes him unable to get to the monthly meeting. This led to a broader discussion regarding how and where supplies for the monthly club meeting are stored and how they are transported to and from the meeting. Al pointed out that there is a storage facility "Affordable Storage" approximately 4 miles from the Hillcrest lodge where we could store the various materials used at club meetings (coffee pots, library books, lights, camera and sound system, workbench). The cost would be $45/mo. for a heated 5'x5' unit. There was general agreement among board members that this would be better than the current strategy of storing this equipment at the homes, shops, and garages of club members because it would make the supplies more easily accessible to all club members and storage conditions in the Affordable Storage facility were likely better than storage conditions in some of the garages where materials are currently stored. Al volunteered to inspect the storage units and report his findings to the board.

Shop tours. Gary Danilson is planning the tours for Stanwood and Camano Island on March 15th. He indicated that plans were nearly complete but if he ran into trouble getting enough shops on the tour, he could organize a tour in Bellingham.

Other business. Jerry Couchman suggested we upgrade the club's lavalier (lapel microphone) and purchase a new video light. Jerry and Charlie Drake agreed to investigate lavaliers and lights and to present a proposal at the next board meeting.

President Bill Rawls adjourned the meeting at 8:15 P.
