NCWA

February 2016 Meeting

“Mining the Internet for Woodworking Gold”

This will be a connected-to-the-Internet presentation on how a woodworker can do searches to find valuable information - including instructional videos and information - such as on your own equipment (manuals, parts, suppliers, reviews), how-tos, suppliers, and a multitude of other invaluable information.

As part of the presentation, there will also be advice on the 'safety' of searches (computer viruses, and ways to avoid them).

This will be in part an 'open questions' format, so come prepared to ask questions that you've been dying to get sources for answers – we'll do live Internet searches to as many questions asked as time permits.

NCWA General Meeting January 5, 2016

President Charley Drake called the meeting to order at 7 PM at the Hillcrest Lodge in Mt. Vernon.

After introducing guests and new members, Charlie announced that the club membership had grown to 212! He also announced that there is a vacancy on the NCWA Board of Directors, a member-at-large position and if anyone is interested in participating in club leadership they should contact Charlie. Then Dale Brandland announced a woodworking "roundtable" discussion at Roundtable Pizza in Bellingham on Jan 28th at 6 PM. Richard Gillingham announced future educational programs including a 3-1/2 day class on building a woodworking bench, shop dust control, wood characterization, plane iron sharpening, vacuum pump applications, and a few others.

Several members brought items to "Bring and Brag". Phil McCloud presented a lovely walnut and maple box he created in Jerry Couchman's box-making class. Bill Epler, Phil McCloud, and David Shull showed off the Krenov-style handplanes they built in Val Matthews' hand plane class. Phil's was made from figured maple, Bill's was sapele, and David's was made of maple with a holly and cherry "racing stripe". Mike Forst displayed an oak stool with finger-joints. He also showed the box-joint jig he used to make the finger joints. George Way and Charlie Drake brought several pieces that they carved over the last year or so. Charley presented a remarkable carved Santa in a basket, a fanciful carved house, and another little carved figure made from basswood. George Way showed off some carved basswood Christmas elves, pilgrims attached to a walnut turned bowl, and a gorgeous chip carved plaque that read "Where there's a wine there's a Way". Nancy Anderson presented remarkably detailed scroll-sawn wine glass caddies and Christmas ornaments. Andy Rudy amazed all with a book shelf, complete with fake books and a secret hiding place for valuables. Laura Matthews displayed a ulu made by Val Matthews. The handle was made from beach and the ulu blade (used for skinning seals and other marine mammals) was very sharp. Jerry Couchman presented a lovely sapele and ebony nightstand complete with a scroll-sawn ebony treble clef. It was part of a pair that also included the bass clef. John Bellinger showed off an oak and walnut rocking horse that he built using bent, laminated wood strips. He mentioned that it was particularly challenging to make the mortise and tenon joints given the bent workpieces and odd angles of the joints. Phil Humphries brought an entire herd of bandsawn redwood reindeer and also a bandsaw box made from fir.

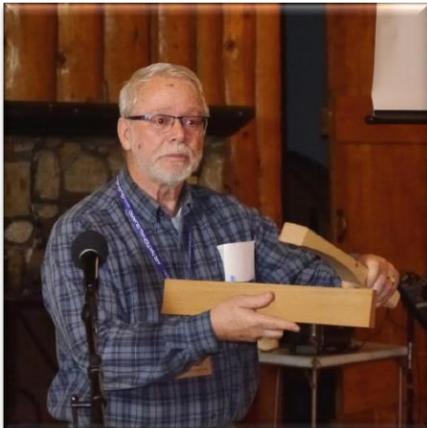

After the break, there was a tool drawing. Geoff Peterson won a Rockwell multi-tool. Have fun with that, Geoff!

The main event of the evening was "tools-and-jigs". George Knutson brought some of his favorites. These included 3M Vet Rap used to wrap around your thumb like carver's tape. But, it's much less expensive. He showed off a flattened Lamello glue bottle for squirting glue into biscuit slots. It coats both sides of the slot in one pass. He showed a small screw clamp he uses for holding small pieces when sanding, and a miter box he uses when trimming ebony pegs. Last, he presented a jig he built for edge-band trimming using a router – very cool. Tom Thornton showed off an aluminum safe rule for veneer cutting with a track-saw attachment and a Fastcap magnetic shim. Tom Dolese discussed some of his favorite tools including a Starrett 6-in adjustable square, and a Veritas stop and straight-edge. He also announced that he will be offering discounts to NCWA members for his woodworking classes and will loan his horizontal mortise machines for free! David Shull described a jig for "turning" tapered French rolling pins on the bandsaw. Jerry Couchman showed off his 2" Amana up-cut spiral pattern bit (RFT5200) and a ramp jig for cutting angled mortises. Andrew Pellar showed off a fairing stick, shaped sanding block, small crew clamp for holding small items, a mortising gauge, planning stop, and a drilling jig for lining up holes. Richard Gillingham showed his curved sanding jig and a jig for holding face frames when joining them with pocket screws. John Braun presented an odd-looking device made by Liberty Tool (in Maine). It was a jig used with a brace-and-bit when cutting flat tenons.

The jig was up at 845 PM and Charlie Drake adjourned the meeting.

Bring and Brag Highlights

Someone put the word out that Bring and Brag presenters MUST wear BLUE!

Upcoming Monthly Meeting Presentations

March 2016 “Woodworking Tips & Tricks”

Have you ever experienced the “Good grief, I didn’t know that!” moment, or the “I wish I’d known that a year ago”, moment - when you read – or someone shows you – a tip that would have saved you time, money, stress, and/or mistakes! Then this is a ‘must attend’ monthly meeting presentation. Jim Bucknell is busily collecting as many tips as possible (and will present them) – from his own experiences as well as from other woodworkers – and will share these tips and tricks with you.

Undoubtedly, each member has discovered a tip or trick that should be shared with other members, to help them be more efficient, or to avoid the ‘trial and error’ syndrome. YOU CAN DIRECTLY CONTRIBUTE TO THE SUCCESS OF THIS PRESENTATION! Pass on your tip and/or trick to Jim Bucknell, early enough that he can see how he might fit it in to this presentation.

March 19 – Saturday

Our Spring Shop Tour is coming up on Saturday morning March 19. We have some great shops lined up in the Bellingham area. It'll be a great chance to see how you can improve your big or small shop space. Bring a friend if they would like to see what NCWA is all about. Save the Date.

Adjustable Back Easy Chair Class

The next class begins February 1st- 5th from 9:00 am - 4:30pm. In this week long class you will build an adjustable back easy chair with an ottoman (optional). There are many steps and details in the building of this chair that will expand your woodworking skills. This chair and ottoman set is a comfortable and attractive piece for a living or family room.

I spend a week ahead of time roughing out the backs that will be shaped and upholstered and preparing the stock, since it would be otherwise impossible to do this all in a week. That's the main reason the class cost 1,250 dollars. I supply the wood (Sapele) for the chair and ottoman (optional if you don't want one). Foam/upholstery /Fabric or Leather costs about an additional 325 dollars, but depends on the fabric you use (3 yards needed). Not a whole lot of woodworking experience is necessary. Anyone interested in seeing and sitting in the chair is welcome to come to my house in the evenings or on a weekend.

Board of Directors Meeting Minutes    January 13, 2016

- Meeting convened by President Charley Drake at 7:00 p.m. at the Farmhouse Restaurant in Mt. Vernon.
- Members present: Dave Strauss, Ed Pysher, Bill Rawls, John Braun, Jim Redding, Charley Drake, Tim Wynn, Phil Choquette, Richard Gillingham, David Shull, Dale Brandland, Al Ashley
- It was agreed that the BOD meeting minutes would be reviewed and approved on line.
- Treasurer's Report:
  - The NCWA currently has $6,046.77 in its checking and savings accounts. As of 1/12/2016, 136 members have paid their 2016 dues. Five members have notified the club that they will not be renewing. There are 70 members that have not responded yet for membership renewal this year.
  - Al presented the annual financial report for the year ended December 31, 2015. Total revenues for the year were $8,501.60 and total operating expenditures were $9,175.73. Expenditures exceeded revenue by $674.13. The ending cash balance (checking & savings accounts) was $6,406.34.
  - Al reviewed the proposed budget for 2016. It was noted that anticipated revenue is less than projected expenditures – however, there are sufficient reserves available to cover this shortage. The Board determined that it would closely monitor the budget during year and, if necessary, makes adjustments to next year's budget to insure continued financial viability for the NCWA.
  - After discussion, the Board voted unanimously to approve the 2016 budget.
- Old Business:
  - An initial Roundtable discussion will be held in Bellingham on January 28. The Board discussed various ways to organize and guide the roundtable discussion. It was generally agreed that this type of informal meeting would help promote communication between members. The Board will wait to see how the first roundtable goes before making any decisions on future meetings. Richard Gillingham and Al Ashley have planned to meet in the upcoming week to produce a zip code sorted list of members that can be used to help organize members in associated geographical regions.
  - The Board then considered how to make the 'member gallery' on the website a functioning element of the web site. Charley Drake will talk to Mike Titus about this.
- Committee Reports.
  - Education Committee. Dale Brandland gave kudos to Richard Gillingham for his work on the class calendar and scheduling the classes.
  - Membership Committee. Ed Pysher will be transitioning the membership chair to Tim Wynn before the February General Meeting.
  - Programs Committee. Richard Gillingham indicated that the programs for the following months:
    - February Meeting – "Mining the Internet for Woodworking Gold"
    - March Meeting – "Woodworking Tips & Tricks"
- New Business.
  - President Charley Drake indicated that it would be helpful if the general membership had a better idea of the duties of the Board members. After discussion, it was agreed that the Board Members would be formally introduced at the February General Meeting with a follow up paragraph on each Board of Director to be published in the March newsletter.
  - Richard Gillingham stepped down as an "at Large" member of the Board of Directors. Richard will remain on the Board as Chair of the Program Committee.
  - President Charley Drake appointed Phil Choquette as an "At Large" member of the Board of Directors.
- The meeting was adjourned at 8:40 p.m.
